Great Competition at Paris, With Six, the Frenchman, Second.

Paris, July 2.—Nazario in a Fiat machine won the Grand Prix auto race today over the Dieppe course in six hours and forty-five minutes.

Six, the French representative, finished second, two minutes behind Nazario.
Lancia, the Italian, was third. Owing to the limitation placed upon the amount of gasoline carried, many contestants were stranded before the race was finished.

The winner is an Italian, who has made a phenomenal record as a racer this year. Neither Shepard nor Christie, the American representatives, finished among the leaders. The race was for 477 miles, over a course of 47.7 miles.

From the East and Are Now Going to Search His Summer Home.

the report that John D. Rockefeller might slip into Cleveland today, United States deputy marshals watched all incoming trains from the east, but John D. did not appear. Later two marshals bearing a copy of the Chicago summons went to Forest Hill, Rockefeller's summer home. It is believed that they will search the buildings and grounds, owing to the rumor that the oil king had slipped into town from some way, station via the auto route.

S. N. Fiske, of Randolph, reached the advanced age of 90 years Tuesday, June 25, and would have had the congratula-tion of the event been advisable in his present feeble health. Mr. Fiske was born in Williamstown and resided for many years in Northfield but for the last quarter of a century has been a resident of Randolph. In his active

WAS NO PANIC.

When Steamers Collided Last Night in the Fog.

Halifax, N. S., July 2.—Two marine accidents occurred off the Nova Scotia coast last night due to thick fog. The Red Cross line steamer Rosalind from New York, collided with the coast steamer Senlac off Halifax and badly damaged her. No lives were lost.

The collision between the Rosalind and Senlac occurred in the lower harbor between George's island and McNab's island. The Rosalind struck the Senlac amidship near the engine room, which soon filled with water putting the fires out. The Senlac began to settle rapidly and it was feared she was about to founder. The 19 passengers and crew of 31 rushed to the decks. While the bow of the Rosalind was in the side of the Senlac a line was thrown from the Red Cross boat aboard the other vessel and made fast while the passengers and crew scrambled aboard the Rosalind. The line was then cut and the Senlac, with her decks washed, drifted seaward.

At the time of the collision both steamers were sounding their whistles, and the Senlac brought several motor boats from McNab's island to the scene.
One boat sighted the Senlac still afloat and steamed up to the Rosalind, whereupon the New York steamer was stopped, and the captain, mate and pilot of the Senlac were taken on the motor boat back to the disabled craft. They boarded her and remained on the deck until the arrival of tugs which took the Senlac in tow and beached her at Mill Cove, Dartmouth.

The Rosalind was not damaged and steamed up to her dock.
The steamer was crowded with passengers, but there was no panic, as the officers assured them that the steamer was uninjured. Many American tourists were on the Rosalind, among them being Miss Clara Clemens, New York, daughter of "Mark Twain" and E. A.
Forbes of the World's Work editorial staff.

M'FARLAND BOLTS
WHITNEY CANDIDACY

Resigns as Chairman of Massachusetts State Democratic Executive Committee; Also From Committee.

Boston, July 2.—Grenville S. McFarland, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic state committee tendered his resignation last night to John P. Feeley, chairman of the state committee.

Mr. McFarland also resigned his membership in the state committee.
The principal reason given for his action is the candidacy of Henry M. Whitney for the Democratic nomination for governor. Mr. McFarland says he cannot support Mr. Whitney because the latter represents corporate interests and opposes true Democratic principles by favoring the money power of New York, Boston and Hartford-Boston & Maine merger.

Mr. McFarland, who is chairman of the executive committee of the independence league, will work in the interests of that organization in this year's campaign.

A COLLAPSE
OF MOVEMENTNew York Ice Men's Strike
Practically Ended

ALTHOUGH NOT OFFICIALLY

Chief of Police Faulkner Reported 35 Arrests for the Month of June—Other Doings of Council in Regular Session.

New York, July 2.—The strike of the New York ice men is broken. The officials of the American Ice company met a committee of the strikers today. They pointed out that they have enough strike breakers to man their wagons and sufficient police protection to ensure deliveries. They promised to give the strikers their old places if they returned to work at once. While the strike was not officially declared off two-thirds of the men went back to their wagons.
The company will give the men who still hold out until tonight to report for duty.

The break in the strike was mainly due to the collapse of the street clearance tie-up, which enabled the police to turn their attention to protection of the ice wagons.

Garbage Collectors Return.

The strike of the city garbage collectors was ended yesterday, and the fears of a serious epidemic as the result of the conditions which have existed for the last week are at rest. A committee representing the striking drivers called upon Mayor McCallan and conferred with him for some time. He told the committee that he could not deal with them, as by operation of the civil service law they were no longer in the employ of the city. He promised to have them if they would return to work he would take up their grievances and investigate them carefully. After the conference of the committee was held, which was followed by another conference with the mayor.

After the second conference the committee announced that it had decided to send all the men back to work, trusting to the mayor's promise to thoroughly investigate all the drivers' complaints.
It was also announced that the men would work over time until the accumulation of filth in the streets had been removed. The supervision of the work will, however, remain for the present in the hands of the health department.

Rutland, July 2.—The wedding festivities of Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Ambrosino at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Agostino in West Rutland yesterday noon were turned to mourning when a horse, frightened by candy thrown by the guests, backed the bridal hack upon the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Agostino Meng of Salisbury.

The child was crushed by the wheels and died an hour later.
Maria Agostino and Gaetano Ambrosino were married in the morning at the Polish church by the Rev. M. Michulka, and many friends attended the reception.
When the couple entered the hack to drive to the home of the bride's parents they were showered with the candy. Several pieces struck the horse and the driver cautioned the guests to stop. His warning was disregarded and the tragedy followed.

short time since by the state board, and Besides Cramps Seized Him—Was a Peddler.

Newport, July 2.—An 18-year-old Syrian boy by the name of Moses was drowned while swimming in Lake Mon-phenago just above the Lane & Davis grist mill yesterday afternoon.
Moses came to this country a short time ago from Damascus and had never been in a body of fresh water. The lesser buoyancy of the water and its low temperature brought on cramps and rendered him helpless almost immediately after he went in and before he could be rescued he went down for the last time in 10 feet of water. The body was recovered soon after and taken to his home in West Derby.

Moses was a peddler and in the short time of his residence here had become a familiar figure in this section.

erick W. Fairbanks, of West Derby, an the Advent church at West Derby this About 9 o'clock Sunday morning Mr.

Fairbanks told his wife that he was going for a walk. His prolonged absence caused anxiety and a search was made.
His body was found hanging from the limb of a tree near the reservoir of the Newport Water Co., a few rods from his home. No motive is known for his act.

Mr. Fairbanks was well known as a

HUNGARIAN BADLY HURT

Fellow Workmen Are Looking for Man at West Pawlet Who Shot Companion Over a Game of Pool.

West Pawlet, July 2.—Declaring their intention of slaying the man if they catch him, several Hungarian quarrymen are searching for Andrew Coulik, a fellow countryman, who early yesterday morning shot and seriously wounded Charles Covack, following a quarrel resulting from a game of pool.

Constables of this town and others from Granville, N. Y., are watching the Hungarians in the hope of preventing bloodshed. It is believed that Coulik may be hiding in one of the slate quarries, but the officers have been unable to locate him.

The shooting occurred at a Hungarian road house in Granville, N. Y., about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, following the game in which Covack defeated his opponent. It is understood that Coulik claimed Covack cheated and declared that he would even matters with the man.

Covack and a friend left the house about 2:30 o'clock, walking up the railroad track. They were overtaken by Coulik and a companion when about to cross the state line into this town.

Hot words passed between Covack and Coulik and they struck at each other.
They were parted by their friends and started to walk off. Coulik then yelled at Covack. The latter turned about and Coulik fired one shot at him from a .22-caliber revolver. The bullet entered just in front of Covack's right temple, glanced on the cheek bone and entered the head. His assailant fled.

Covack sent word to Constable James Walsh of Granville, who accompanied him to his boarding house in this place.
Covack at first declared that he did not want Coulik arrested, but said:

"If I die, I don't care. If I get better, I'll kill him."
Later, however, he made his way to Granville, where he had a warrant sworn out for Coulik's arrest. Constable Wayland Johnson of West Pawlet was notified and searched for the man, but was unable to find him.

Covack will be taken to the Albany N. Y. hospital, where an attempt will be made to locate and remove the bullet.
